Message

On behalf of Indian National Science Academy (INSA), I feel happy to extend our heartiest congratulation to Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS) for its 60th Anniversary of Membership. INSA and CAS have been cooperating for the last two decades through the bilateral agreement signed between the two academies on September 1992 in New Delhi.

Since then, both the Academies are involved in successful cooperation through bilateral exchange programme as well as organizing the joint workshops/seminars/symposia. A number of joint seminars/workshops were organized in both the countries under the purview of the existing cooperation. Scientists of both the countries are highly benefitted through this programme.

It is my pleasure to congratulate to all the office-bearers and the administrative staff who have contributed greatly to China's scientific programme and international cooperation in science & technology.

I look forward for more intensive and productive collaboration between INSA and CAS in future.

With best regards,

Raghvendra Gadagkar
President
